

Homework clubs

Mustard Seed believes education offers the best chance for children to escape the poverty trap. So over the years we have invested in homework clubs, kindergartens as well as individual child sponsorship. We have been delighted that at times other groups have been impressed with the potential and taken over the funding of what we started.

We currently fund 2 part-time homework clubs: one in the village of Cefa and another in the city of Oradea. For all the children and young people these offer a safe place to do homework, with a teacher to assist, and very important provide a nutritional snack or meal (often viewed as being the best meal – even the only meal of the day).

The reason these homework clubs are part-time is due to lack of funding. There is nothing Alex of Mustard Seed Romania or Nelu of AVS would like more than to have the funds to operate every day of term time, instead of one or two days a week. But those one or two days are a big help and encouragement to the young and young people.
